

LYMM PAGES

Restaurant Review

By Don Stefano (the mystery diner)

Now, who was it that said
'there's no place like home;
there's no place like home'?
Well, perhaps they were right!

A weekday evening visit to Home Bar and Restaurant revealed a whole host of pleasant surprises.

A warm professional welcome awaits all at this converted Manor House at Little Bollington. We were shown to a well laid table in the bustling decadent dining room.

We realised the reason behind the impressive mid-week turnout as we sneaked a peek at passing plates, this was confirmed as we viewed the extensive menu and were offered two courses for £5!

Whilst the standard menu was also available, this was an offer we couldn't refuse. A choice of five starters and main courses was presented to us as we accepted delivery of our choice of the house white.

The freshly made 'cream of spring asparagus and Cheshire potato soup' was generously served and proved a popular choice, suitably accompanied by a couple of chunks of rustic bread.

I must admit that we wondered how good the main course would be. I mean.. how good could it really be following a quality starter for the remainder of my fiver?

Our choices were an amply spiced Lamb curry (offered from the specials board) which was served with half rice / half homemade chips; oh and a poppadum for good measure. The tender and tasty Jamaican Jerk Chicken was served on a skewer and accompanied by an authentic rice and side salad.

Impressed with our steal of two quality courses for two for a tenner; we just had to survey the dessert offerings. At just £3 each we opted for the Homemade strawberry cheesecake served with ice-cream. We smugly retired to our coffee in the knowledge that we had taken advantage of the best quality offer in the locality.

Its not often you find such great ambience, service and quality produce at recession busting prices. We congratulate Chris and the team on the areas best kept secret
..... until now!

Don. S.

If you have any recommendations for Don Stefano or you are an establishment desiring a review please contact Lymm Pages and we will pass on your request to, our friend and yours, Don Stefano.

Booked your table? Now Book your travel!

LYMM TRAVEL 758985

